

Acknowledgments

This publication, and particularly the World Problems section, was produced on the basis of a considerable amount of documentation supplied on a complimentary or exchange basis by many of the 3300 active international agencies and associations listed in the Year-book of International Organizations. Without this range of material from a variety of ideological and disciplinary perspectives, already structured to give a world focus rather than a national one, the editorial task would have been much more difficult, if not impossible with the resources available.

Thanks are due to the United Nations and its Specialized Agencies for the documents and publications which they regularly send to the Union of International Associations, and for those which were supplied in support of this project, either on a complimentary basis (regulations permitting) or at a discount on the normal sales price.

Special thanks are due to the United Nations Library (Geneva) for much assistance, and especially to Theodore D. Dimitrov, Chief of the Processing Section. Special thanks are also due to: Peter Rohn, Director of the World Treaty Project, University of Washington (Seattle) to the American Library (Brussels); and to the Treaty Section of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and External Trade (Brussels).

The following people worked on the project between 1972 and 1975, in different capacities and for different periods of time:

Louissette Amand	Philip Lowe
Jim Burns	Prabha Parbhu
Choi Yee Ah	Ingrid Percival
Christopher Crickmay	Noël Quiévy
Solange De Smedt	Madeleine Renson
Lois Ferstenberg	Guy Streatfeild
Martine Gosse	Susan Traill
Bernard Godisiaboïs	Eyvind Tew
Peter Hunot	Carol Waldron
Judy Jacobs	Elaine Woods
Anthony Judge	Maria-Teresa Vrljicak

Special thanks are due to:

- Susan Traill, for her work on the many tasks during the difficult early phases of information collection and entry preparation
- Carol Waldron, for her painstaking work in registering the many cross-references between the different entries in this publication
- Madeleine Renson and Martine Gosse, for responding with patience to the many difficulties of typing texts (in a language not their own)
- Eyvind Tew, without whose collaboration in information collection for some sections and in index preparation and proof-reading for most of them, this publication would still be in the bowels of the computer

- the Staff of the Union of International Associations, who have not been unaffected by the priority accorded to this project during the many delays and setbacks.

The project was originally conceived in 1972 by James Wellesley-Wesley with Anthony Judge, by whom the work was orchestrated. The project would not have been possible, however, without the encouragement of James, Trinetta and Hannelore.
